Important notes

- This is a careful working transcript, not a court-certified transcript.
- Speaker labels are inferred from context and may not identify every speaker correctly.
- [inaudible] means no reliable words could be recovered. [unclear] means the words are only partly audible. Bracketed wording is explanatory rather than a quotation.
- The co-defendant's surname sounds like Gianni. The name of the lawyer addressed around 06:31 sounds like Mr. Dufus/Dupas. Both spellings should be checked against the minute order or docket.
- Repeated words, interruptions, and incomplete sentences are retained when audible. Punctuation has been lightly added for readability.

Transcript

[02:11] COURT: How about Cameron Padilla? Cameron Padilla?

[02:18] COURT/CLERK: 26-SM-004229.

[02:25] COURT: Is it co-defendant?

[02:28] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Sure.

[02:29] COURT: Who's the co-defendant?

[02:31] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Is it Marissa Gianni?

[02:33] COURTROOM SPEAKER: That's 229.

[02:45] COURTROOM SPEAKER: I'll give you this one.

[02:47] COURTROOM SPEAKER: So, yeah, it's Marissa Gianni.

[02:54] COURTROOM SPEAKER: I know. I'm trying.

[02:55] COURTROOM SPEAKER: There you go.

[02:56] COURT: Hi. How are you, ma'am?

[02:57] DEFENDANT: Good. How are you?

[02:57] COURT: Okay. Doing well.

[02:59] COURT: So, we've got Cameron Padilla, 26-SM-004229-B. Marissa Gianni is 26-SM-004228-A. Hold on. Oh, and 26-SM-004229-A. So Ms. Gianni has two matters.

[03:25] COURT: Mr. [Dufus/Dupas], I am in receipt of both PDP forms. I will appoint the Private Defender for both individuals.

[03:41] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Okay, so one is Padilla?

[03:42] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Yeah. Padilla is the young lady directly behind you in the jeans, and Ms. Gianni is in the- is in the-

[03:51] COURT: Gianni?

[03:52] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Gianni, I'm sorry. Gianni is in the hoodie.

[03:55] COURT: Great. Thank you.

[03:59] PROSECUTOR: And, Your Honor, in this matter, the People would also be requesting no-contact orders. Would Your Honor like a factual basis?

[04:06] COURT: Please.

[04:07] PROSECUTOR: Okay. So, on the co-defendant case, officers were dispatched to an overdose involving defendant Gianni. I think I'm saying that right; I'm sorry if I'm not. Defendant Padilla was also on scene, and she was intoxicated. She had called the police. Defendant Gianni was lethargic, not moving, and was being treated by paramedics on scene. She admitted to using heroin.

[04:32] PROSECUTOR: Let me get to the- So, defendant Padilla had arrived at the location, brought her own son. In the hotel room, there was, within reach of the children, defendant Gianni's bag containing heroin. There was a half-consumed bottle of tequila, a loose kitchen knife on the floor next to the bag, and inside of the bag officers found three containers of loose marijuana, two containers of gummy marijuana products, marijuana and mushroom chocolate bars, an unlabeled pill bottle with 50 white pills stamped with “50” on them, a glass vial containing Xanax-shaped pills, and in the bathroom there were two pieces of unburnt foil and a pen cap with white residue. This was all within reach of both children.

[05:26] COURT: One child or two?

[05:29] PROSECUTOR: There's two children. So, there is Ms. Padilla's son and then Ms. Gianni's son.

[05:35] COURT: So each one had a child, then?

[05:38] PROSECUTOR: What was that? I'm sorry.

[05:39] COURT: I said each one had a child.

[05:42] PROSECUTOR: Yes. And then, in the non-co-defendant case pertaining to just Ms. Gianni, in that case officers responded to a report of defendant overdosing. She was breathing but not awake. They had to give her Narcan. Defendant said she smoked fentanyl, and there was a bag with rocks near the toilet. Her and her son share a bedroom. In that bedroom, officers found burnt tinfoil and a tube with residue. They also found three methadone pills, two Xanax pills, and an unknown white, rocky substance in the bedroom. So the People would be requesting a no-contact order.

[06:26] COURT: Where are the children now?

[06:28] PROSECUTOR: I do not have representations. I apologize.

[06:31] COURT: Mr. [Dufus/Dupas], do you happen to know? Have you inquired with the clients where the children are now?

[06:44] COURT: I mean, whose possession are they in?

[06:48] DEFENDANT 1: No, we already closed our CPS case.

[06:51] DEFENDANT 2: We both did CPS cases as well, and my CPS worker told me it was closed, and I was just charged for what I know. [Last phrase unclear.]

[07:00] DEFENSE/COURTROOM SPEAKER: The children are with the parents of the two ladies.

[07:05] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Correct. And there was a CPS case currently, according to Ms. Padilla.

[07:11] COURT: Okay. That was closed. Do either of you live with your parents?

[07:14] DEFENDANT: Yes, we both do.

[07:22] COURT: Okay. Give me a moment.

[07:27] COURT: Counsel, can you approach, please?

[07:28-07:46] [Bench discussion/low-volume courtroom conversation; not intelligible enough to transcribe reliably.]

[07:46] DEFENSE COUNSEL: Waive formal reading and advisement of rights as to all matters, and pleas are not guilty. Time is not waived.

[08:02] COURT/COUNSEL: Time is not waived.

[08:07] COURT: The reason that your counsel is not waiving time: the District Attorney is going to send up a stay-away/no-contact order, and I'm going to grant those right now based on all this behavior that's been described to the court. You're saying your children can stay with your parents, but you can't stay with your parents if your children are going to be there. So they're moving as quickly as possible. But I understand CPS has closed; this case is not closed here. So, until this case is closed, you will not be coming in contact with those children.

[08:44] COURT: So, I just need some kind of [unclear] today. Ms. [Hyman-name unclear], are you going to give me those orders?

[08:51] PROSECUTOR: Yes, Your Honor. Handing them to the [court/bailiff] clerk now.

[08:58] DEFENDANT: I just have a really quick question.

[09:01] COURT: Talk to the lawyer.

[09:02] DEFENDANT: I don't have a lawyer.

[09:03] COURT: No, no. You can ask me if you ask the lawyer to make sure [unclear].

[09:08] DEFENDANT: Well, I just did a CPS case, and that got shut down, so I'm kind of confused. And my CPS worker told me that I didn't do anything wrong, like, quote-unquote, for her.

[09:18] COURT: Okay, but this is a criminal case, so it's a little bit different. So, in this case, you're not going to be in contact with your kids [unclear trailing phrase].

[09:30] DEFENDANT: Okay. And do you know how long it'll be, then?

[09:32] COURT: Until the case gets resolved. That's why we didn't waive time, so that [the matter can keep moving forward-partly unclear].

[09:46] COURT: It's fine. What I'm inclined to [do is] draft a carve-out that they would be able to call their parents and talk to the children, with no physical contact.

[10:04] PROSECUTOR: That's fine with the People.

[10:05] COURT: I think that's appropriate.

[10:25] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Number 13, it's no obtaining addresses.

[10:29] COURTROOM SPEAKER: The kids [are] with their parents. I don't think that-

[10:31] COURT: Yeah, it's kind of the standard we always have circled.

[10:35] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Of course.

[10:49] COURT: And then, on the no-contact-

[10:55] COURT: I'm going to [strike] the no-contact, but not the stay-away. So they'll be able to talk to the children, but they have to stay away from them physically.

[11:05] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Okay. Thank you.

[11:37] COURT: Okay, so, time-not-waived dates: it's going to be September 11th at 1:30 here in Redwood City; jury trial September 24th at 9:00. So I'm ordering you both back September 11th at 1:30. If the case does not resolve-and the cases in Ms. Gianni's situation do not resolve-ordered back September 24th at 9:00.

[12:17] COURT: You will remain out [of custody] on the $5,000 bails. [Beginning and final word are somewhat unclear, but “$5,000” is audible.]

[12:49] COURT: Okay. I'm serving you both with stay-away orders. I have deleted the section on “you must take no action to obtain the addresses or locations of the protected persons.” They're with your parents, and you know where they are.

[13:08] COURT: I'm ordering you to stay away from the children, and if the children are at your parents' house, stay away from the house.

[13:14] COURT: I have deleted the no-contact portion, so you can contact them by telephone or text. However, I don't know if the children are old enough [to have] phones. Do not talk to them about this case or why you are not present there. You can tell them you are on vacation or you have to be away. Do not tell them that there's a criminal case and whatever. This is not something that children need to be involved with.

[13:39] COURT: However, you will stay 100 feet away-excuse me-100 yards away from the children, their home, and any vehicle they may be in. You must not harass the children.

[13:53] [Brief pause while the order is reviewed.]

[13:59] COURT: You must not harass, strike, threaten, assault, hit, follow, stalk, molest, disturb the peace of, keep under surveillance, annoy [unclear]. You can talk to them, but don't annoy them or block their movements. [Remainder partly unclear.] I'm also going to put their school.

[14:19] COURT: So, where it says home, job, or workplace, I'm going to substitute school. Don't go to school. [Unclear phrase.] Don't go to school to talk to them.

[14:29] COURTROOM SPEAKER: Thank you.

[14:30-15:20] [Pause and low-level courtroom activity; no reliably intelligible speech concerning these defendants.]

[15:20] DEFENDANT: Sorry. So it says to call a week from today. Is that still valid for our court date?

[15:28] COUNSEL/COURTROOM SPEAKER: Yeah.

[15:31] DEFENDANT: Can I call them today?

[15:34] COUNSEL/COURTROOM SPEAKER: No, it's too early.

[15:35] DEFENDANT: Okay.

[15:36] COUNSEL/COURTROOM SPEAKER: So today is- I would call Monday. The 11th is a week from-

[15:44-15:50] COURTROOM SPEAKERS: [Short exchange partly inaudible.] Oh, that's true. It's Labor Day. [Additional words unclear.]

[15:53] COURT: All right, folks. Stay in touch with your lawyers. Do not leave until you receive a copy of the stay-away.

[16:02] COURT: In good faith, I'm letting you call the kids. If word gets back to me that you've made any [improper] contact, I swear we will be back in here, and you'll both be sitting [“behind glass in orange” - wording uncertain, but this is what the phrase appears to mean]. Okay?

[16:12] COURT: I know you're distraught right now. Ma'am, you're angry. But this is appalling behavior. Appalling behavior. So, have a seat. Stay in contact with your attorneys, please.

[16:27] [The court returns to the unrelated Ramirez matter.]
